"Irish Tom" Announces Intention to Enforce Law Regulating Gatherings of This Character; Late House for Girls to Be Banned.

"WELL ORDERED" ARE NOT INCLUDED IN LIST

Chief of Police Thomas McDonald this morning announced that he intends to enforce the law regulating dancing. This will cover dances of every nature to which admission is charged.

The law provides that dance halls may be required to pay a license tax and also that dancing masters must also have a license. Permission must be secured from the mayor to hold dances which may not last longer than 1 o'clock. Special permission may be secured to hold the dance until 2 o'clock but beyond this hour they may not continue.

Another clause in the dance act is that all girls 16 years old or under must leave at 9 o'clock. To hold a dance the organization giving it must pay a tax of $1.

The action of the police chief is the outgrowth of a dance held in the Leiderkranz hall on Friday night. The chief said this morning he had been hearing stories of that party which did not sound well and that to stop another such occurrence he intended to see that the city place all dancing under license. "Then we will know what is going on," the chief concluded.

The police head said there were three or four public dances held each week and that girls were running around at midnight. "No good. It isn't the well ordered or social dances we are after but these others," the officer said.

The choir repeated the Christmas cantata.

Woman of 95 Cooks and Serves Dinner on Her Anniversary

New Stanton counts in its population a remarkable woman, Mrs. A. J. Simpson, who on New Year Day observed the 95th anniversary of her birth by preparing and serving a dinner. In observance of the event covers were laid for the following: Mrs. John B. Lirett of East Connellsville, a daughter; Miss Mary K. Lirett of East Connellsville, a granddaughter; Mr. and Mrs. John W. Lirett of Connellsville, Miss Grace Lirett, Mr. W. A. Miller and Adam McGregor, all of Pittsburg; Mrs. Emma May, New Stanton and Mrs. Simpson. A son, Thomas Simpson, is in Montana. He could not come. A telegram from him was read.

Mrs. Simpson came from Scotland when a young woman, settling at New Stanton where she has since resided. Everyone in the community knows her as "Granny." Her husband was killed in the Civil War.

The aged woman is remarkable for her health and strength. Last summer she was engaged in growing vegetables which she took to Youngwood and Greensburg for sale. She did all the work herself.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH GIVES $1,750 FOR NEAR EAST RELIEF

Remarkable Outpouring of Cash Follows Armenian Woman's Address.

TOTAL FOR WEEK $4,650

Struggles of Armenian People Against Turks and Starvation Related by Lady Ann Azgapetian in Way to Bring Tears, Brilliant Record.

Moving into the lead in the movement here for aid of the starving of the Near East the Christian church Sunday contributed in cash and pledges the sum of $1,750 toward the good work, bringing the total for the churches of Connellsville in a week to over $4,650. The very liberal response on the part of the people of the Christian church followed an address by Lady Ann Azgapetian, an Armenian woman, wife of an Armenian general, who served in the war as a Red Cross nurse and who since then has been devoting her time to work for the relief of her stricken people at home.

Of the total given by the Christian church about $800 was in cash and the remainder in the form of pledges to care for children on the $5 a month per child plan. Of this an approximately $350 was in Sunday school pledges. It is expected this fund will be increased.

From Connellsville Lady Azgapetian went to Scottdale where she appeared in the evening in the First Baptist church. Following her address a collection of $171 toward the church's fund for Near East Relief was taken. She was accompanied to Scottdale and return by Mrs. J. Earle Edwards, Mrs. Irene Moore and Mrs. Lora Best Colborn. An effort will be made to have her return to Scottdale in February or March for a union meeting in the interest of Near East Relief.

Lady Ann was entertained at dinner here at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Swartzwelder, East Park, other guests being Rev. and Mrs. G. W. Buckner, Rev. and Mrs. J. J. Proudfit and Rev. J. P. Allison, the last named of Cleveland, who is here on a visit.

Announcement was made today by Rev. J. J. Proudfit that the fund in the First Presbyterian church was increased Sunday to $1,100. The Baptists have raised $800 and the First Methodist Episcopal church a similar amount.

Lady Azgapetian dwelt in her address on the history and struggles of the Armenian people, leading up to the perils with the atrocities inflicted by the Turks which reached the climax when because the people refused to espouse the cause of the Central Powers and gave 250,000 of their young men to the Allies, eight hundred thousand Armenians were slaughtered by the Turks.

America generally has not learned, she said, that the Armenian forces with the Allies made for themselves brilliant records. Two hundred thousand served with the Russians and formed the backbone of the army on the southeast. Fifty thousand served on the Western Front. Telling of the battle of Verdun Lady Ann declared that of 1,000 Armenians in the Foreign Legion who went into battle 8 returned alive.

Armenia's record in the World War alone is enough, she indicated, to show that the Armenian nation is not one of beggars but of fighters.

The powers of Europe are responsible for the condition of Armenia, said Lady Ann. It was jealousies of England, France, Italy, Russia and Germany toward each other that made possible the atrocities of the Turks in the years during which the Armenian nation was reduced to less than three millions of people she said. Armenia is on the conscience of Europe she added and the powers are trying to wipe it off.

The aid from America, said Lady Ann, has kept Armenia from starvation and its people are devoutly appreciative.

Lady Azgapetian is a brilliant woman, highly educated and cultured and possessed of a wonderful command of the English language which she speaks perfectly. Though she recited the harrowing details of conditions in Armenia there were few eyes dry among those of her audience and good humor found in the envelopes and Financial Secretary Harry Reslots in making his report indicated many givers had simply emptied their pockets into the envelopes.

BELL TELEPHONE EMPLOYES TO BE AWARDED MEDALS

In Recognition of Unusual Acts of Service, Without Regard to Length of Employment.

Theodore N. Vail Distinguished Service Medals are to be awarded to employes of the Bell Telephone system for acts of an unusual character according to an announcement just made by the Bell Telephone company of Pennsylvania and its associated companies. The medals are made available through the establishment of a memorial fund in honor of the late president of the American Telephone & Telegraph company.

These medals are to be awarded to Bell employes over the entire country. For the year 1920 there will be bronze medals for 18 of the 18,000 employes of the Bell Telephone company of Pennsylvania and associated companies. Nine are to be awarded to men and nine to women. Those for men will be in the form of a fob or charm and those for women will be in the form of a pendant. According to the announcement these awards are not to be made because of the length of service with the company but rather in recognition of unusual acts or services which conspicuously illustrate the high ideals that govern the Mr. Vail as to public service. A certificate engrossed on parchment giving a statement of the reason for the award will accompany each medal.

In addition to the bronze medals there are eight silver medals each of which will be accompanied by a cash award of $250 and two gold medals each of which will be accompanied by a cash award of $500. Further there is to be one special Distinguished Service Medal of gold to be accompanied by a cash award of $1,000 to be presented for a very exceptional act or service. These medals are to be awarded by a committee appointed by H. B. Thayer, president of the American Telephone & Telegraph company and will be given without reference to geographical distribution.

Each of the Bell associated companies will make its own awards of the bronze medals. The Bell of Pennsylvania and its associated companies will have a committee of eight, five of whom are to be selected by the employes and the other three to consist of officials. This method of allotting them is to give the employes themselves a majority vote in the selection of the recipients. Any one connected with the Bell organization may recommend to the committee for award the name of any other employe who may be thought worthy of a medal.

TWENTY-ONE ARRESTS MADE IN THREE RAIDS BY POLICE; $730 FORFEITS COLLECTED

Included in the Places Visited is Jimmy Marietta's in Orchard Place but it is Found Vacant; Not One Appears for Hearing.

INTEND TO KEEP AFTER THEM, SAYS CHIEF

Police made a clean sweep Saturday night and early Sunday morning when they raided two disorderly houses and a room in the Hotel Royal. The total receipts in forfeits from the raids netted the city $730 as no one showed up this morning for a hearing. Patrolmen A. Bert Ritchie, Andy Thomas and Charles Shipley made the raids.

In all 21 arrests were made. These included 20 men and one woman. The gambling room of Leo Mazza at 10 Water street, where it is said the game had not yet started, was the first place visited by the officers. Mazza, the alleged proprietor of the house, posted a $100 forfeit. Men giving their names as Nick Sidati, Gus Cheri, Sam Manley, Mike Peris, Mike Lotti, John Vendo, Gus Metus and Spi Sprio, posted forfeits of $25 each.

The next raid was on a friendly game in a room at the Hotel Royal. The police said they were tipped by a man who was not allowed in. Twelve men, giving their names as John Doe, Harry Jones, John Bow, Barnard Kane, Frank Evans, James Williams, William Hot, A. T. Jacks, Sam Thomas, Johnnie Jones, R. J. Miles and William Lamsof, each paid $25.

The proprietor of the hostelry, Andy George, is ill in bed and he told Chief of Police McDonald he knew nothing of the party. A negro left in charge rented the room he said. It was later learned this man had been arrested for drunkenness and locked up at the city hall.

An alleged disorderly house located in South Meadow lane was also included in the raids. Here Mrs. Hattie Clark, the alleged proprietress, posted a $100 forfeit. Jim Pulkey, the sole visitor at the house, paid $25.

The police also visited Jimmy Marietta's in Orchard alley. No one was found there.

Chief McDonald declares he intends to keep up the raids until they have a telling effect on the offenders. Previously small forfeits were collected, and the operations of the houses continued without interruption.

FUMIGATORS LIGHT UP HIGH SCHOOL; FIREMEN SUMMONED

INCENDIARISM IS FEARED

The Connellsville fire department responded to a telephone call that the high school is on fire in record time Saturday night. Truck No. 1 sailed over Crawford avenue as though there were no rough spots in the street when it was feared a firebug had somehow gotten a blaze started in this city's fine structure. Truck No. 2 followed closely but neither machine was needed. The cause of all the excitement were burning fumigators lighted following the basketball game Saturday night.

Some time after the players had left the building three men were seen to walk out. These did not attract any particular attention at the time although the thoughts of the neighbors did revert for a moment to the fire epidemic which has been sweeping other parts of the county.

Not long afterward Harmon Sine and his brother were walking home on East Crawford avenue. As he reached Cottage avenue Sine happened to glance towards the school building. What he saw took his breath and he froze to his tracks for a moment. The windows in the back were lighted by a dull red glare and smoke seemed to be filling the hall. Worth Kilpatrick who lives on the corner noticed the fire about the same time. Sine and Kilpatrick ran towards the building to get a better glimpse of the fire.

Miss Phoebe Christner who lives in a house next to the school building was walking home on Prospect street when she saw the flickerings. The thought of the school building burning flashed on her and dropping off the coat she was wearing, the young woman who is a recent graduate of the institution ran into her home and sent in a telephone call. About this time Harmon Sine's brother broke the fire alarm box at the corner of Cottage and Crawford avenues.

When the trucks arrived it had been discovered that the fires in the various parts of the building were caused by lighted fumigators.

The high school is supposed to be fire proof but this fact did no less enhance the belief that some firebug might have gotten into the place and in some manner started a blaze. The fact that three men had been seen to depart gave strength to this theory.

Legislature Opens

WILSON VETOES REVIVAL OF WAR FINANCE BODY

MIGHT BE HURTFUL, CLAIM

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—President Wilson today vetoed the Gronna resolution to revive the War Finance Corporation. Addressing Congress he said in part:

"This resolution was passed by Congress apparently in view of the recent sudden and considerable fall in prices, especially of agricultural commodities. While I thought that some European countries to which certain products were shipped before the war might in time be enabled to resume importing and that larger masses of domestic exports to European countries generally might be stimulated with the resulting enhancement of domestic prices.

"I am fully in sympathy with every sound proposal to promote foreign trade along sound business lines. I am not convinced that the method proposed is wise or that the benefit, if any, would offset the evils which would result. On the contrary, I apprehend that the resumption of the corporation's activities at this time would exert an unhealthful influence and would raise hopes among the very people who would expect most and would be hurtful to the natural and healthy processes of business and farming.

"Large government credits were extended during the war to certain European governments associated with us in the struggle. These ceased several months after the armistice. They should not now be resumed directly or indirectly."

TRINITY LUTHERAN CHURCH MADE FINE RECORD DURING 1920

Receipts From All Sources Aggregated $23,580.19. Healthy Growth in All Departmental Activities.

The splendid record of the Trinity Lutheran church during the past year and its substantial financial basis were brought to the attention of the membership in the reports of the financial officers which were submitted at the annual congregational meeting held in connection with the regular morning services yesterday.

These reports showed that the receipts from all sources during the year aggregated $23,580.19. Through the several organizations the receipts were as follows: Congregational contributions, $11,820.08; Sunday school, $1,211.08; Ladies Aid society, $762.[illegible]; Woman's Missionary society, $601.[illegible]; King's Daughters, $200, a total of $14,726.01. The receipts were distributed among the several funds as follows: Building fund, $12,664.52; local church work, $1,053.83; benevolence, $3,609.86.

The building fund pledges made during the campaign put on during the year do not become due and payable until next Sunday. These amount to $12,000, hence with the exception of some advance payments on account the building fund collections during 1920 were independent of and in addition to the fund which is to be paid in installments over a period of four years just beginning.

At yesterday's meeting J. R. Floto and Dr. H. C. Hoffman were elected elders and W. J. Keller, A. S. Silcox, [illegible] R. Shultz, Paul Brickman, Ernest R. Boss and Willard J. West, deacons, to serve for two years.

Under the pastorate of Rev. Dr. W. H. Hetrick, who is in charge, which is [illegible] the resignation of Rev. Dr. J. B. Bingaman, who became president of the Pittsburg synod, the growth of the church in all its departments and activities has been of a most substantial and satisfactory character.

GRANGERS PLANNING FARM PRODUCTS SHOW TO BOOST COUNY ONE IN UNIONTOWN

The immediate project in the Fayette Farm Bureau program for the year 1921 is the fifth annual farm products show which will be held January 12, 13 and 14 in the Keystone garage display room, Uniontown. Last year the number of entries in the various classes were as follows: Red wheat, 3; rye, 1; oats, 10; yellow corn, 26; white corn 1; popcorn, 2; apples, 16; potatoes, 35. Besides there were entries of pumpkins, carrots, parsnips, onions, beets, celery, sweet corn and canned, baked and sewing goods. There are again classes for all kinds of farm products as well as canned, baked and sewing goods.

In the past the show has resulted in training and educating those who have selected and exhibited products by teaching them the desirable types to look for in the different classes. To further encourage exhibiting at the show the Grangers of the county are cooperating with the farm bureau. It is planned that a local community farm products show will be held in connection with the meeting of each grange just preceding the county show.

At these community Grange shows everyone will be urged to exhibit the best which they grow during the past season. A committee of three men will judge the exhibits. Those displaying first prize products will explain how they grew and exhibited their exhibits, thereby giving the results of their experience to the entire community, so that others may also profit by it.

The county agent is planning to meet with as many granges as possible and after the show take the products to Uniontown where they will be exhibited at the county show. The farm bureau is desirous of having the county agent meet with every Grange but because of a number of conflicting dates this is impossible.

Every person who is a granger should not only exhibit at his Grange show but should also boost it and get the other fellow to exhibit. All those who are not grangers should exhibit at the county show and help to make the show this year the best collection of farm products ever gathered together in Fayette county.

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit. 15c and 30c.

Don Sung's Hens Increased Every Day. Plan Is Easily Tried.

"We have 23 chickens and hadn't had an egg all winter. In five days after feeding Don Sung, we got 4 to 5 eggs a day; in three weeks we were getting 10 to 12 a day; in five weeks we got 16 eggs a day."—John Duni, Box 102, Cherry Valley, Pa.

Mr. Duni started giving Don Sung in January, the zero weather. He now keeps his hens busy in winter when hens usually loaf. A trial costs nothing. Here's our offer:

Give your hens Don Sung and watch results for one month. If you don't find that it pays for itself and pays you a good profit besides, simply tell us and your money will be cheerfully refunded.

Don Sung (Chinese for egg-laying) is a scientific tonic and conditioner. It is easily given in the feed, improves the hens' health and makes her stronger and more active. It tones up the egg-laying organs, and gets the eggs, no matter how cold or wet the weather.

Don Sung can be obtained promptly from your druggist or poultry remedy dealer, or send $1.04 (includes war tax) for a package by mail prepaid. Burrell-Dwyer Co., 214 Columbia Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.

MONDAY EVENING, JAN. 3, 1921.

The appeal for Near East Relief has found a near way to the hearts and purses of Connellsville people, including some who have heretofore been considered "a little near."

If the first two days are samples of what the weatherman intends to do for us in 1921 we will begin to revive our faith in the virtue of New Year resolutions.

D'Annunzio is in much the same position as some automobile owners. The new year is upon him and he is without license plates.

After sufficient practice you will find it as easy to write it 1921 as it was to write it 1920.

The cabinet guessing contest remains the chief indoor sport.

The fact that 1921 does not have a zero in it may be the explanation of the weatherman's behavior.

Citizens generally may take courage in knowing that the Legislature meets tomorrow, but will be in session only one day, adjourning for two weeks to give the members relief from their strenuous exertions in answering the roll call.

NOT AMERICANS.

Harrisburg Telegraph.

Judge Endlich, of the Berks county courts, took an entirely proper, and certainly a popular stand when he declined to grant naturalization papers to a half-score of men shown to have been draft evaders, and he was equally within all the rights of the case when he made "citizens at sight" of several Italians who had gone into the army for the protection of America when they might have escaped military duty.

The draft dodger, whether born here or elsewhere, is not fit for citizenship. The sickening favoritism shown many such by Secretary Baker has soured the stomachs of thousands of loyal Americans, who have not been able to understand why soldiers convicted of minor offenses in service and still serving time in the federal prisons have to remain behind bars, while draft dodgers and milksops have not only been released but restored to citizenship, and given honorable discharge from the army.

Foreigners are taught by such examples as that in Berks county that America respects and rewards patriotism and detests the slacker in what soever guise he may be found, but heaven only knows what the immigrant thinks of such conduct as that of which the head of the War Department has been guilty.

The Jews and Henry Ford

Philadelphia North American.

The disturbing feature about Ford's connection with the anti-Jewish propaganda is that the Ford mind is so evidently the criterion of the mentality of his class, the unlettered, loosely directed, badly informed stratum of American life, which happily for the future of America, is growing proportionately smaller with each succeeding generation.

But we have Mr. Ford with us today; and Mr. Ford has his unmeasured millions with which to do mischief. And he has been doing it through his newspaper, the Dearborn Independent, for the past many months.

Mr. Ford, it will be remembered, was at one time the hope of the internationalists in America. His money was poured out like water to promote the shameful "peace ark" which was to "take the boys out of the trenches by Christmas," leaving the German autocracy in command of the world. This was not because Mr. Ford was wedded to autocracy, but because he was a confirmed pacifist and a pseudo-internationalist.

On these subjects he held exactly the same ground as the Russian Bolshevists. They were no more in sympathy with the German autocracy than was Mr. Ford. But their one thought was to end the war, to "take the boys out of the trenches," and they did this at the price of shameless surrender to their implacable foes.

After the war, Mr. Ford, through his Dearborn Independent, did a lot of flirting with the Soviet, and a great deal more with Soviet ideals of government.

[illegible] of the North American will [illegible] printed an article [illegible] newspaper, the writer of which gleefully indorsed an alleged movement to establish a radical government in Alaska and to pass an ordinance of secession from the Union. Here is an example of the kind of patriotism Mr. Ford's Dearborn Independent was spreading at that time:

"The adherents of the second, or more radical, concept are convinced beyond the power of mere argument to alter their conviction with statehood now or later as an idle dream, a fantasy, a thing absurd. These latter are our radicals in embryo, a type yearning for relief by any means, and willing to engage in any undertaking fairly promising amelioration.

"Their plans are as yet unmade; their political convictions as yet inchoate and unvoiced, but within their hearts and minds is the latent thought that in political independence lies the only hope of Alaska. As an independent sovereign state the future would hold something for Alaskans and their children; as a political dependency of the United States the future of Alaska is hopeless."

Mr. Ford's newspaper presented this with the evident indorsement that comes from failure to demur to any of the statements or misstatements of the author of the article.

Some time after this episode, Mr. Ford developed a strong and sudden aversion to Bolshevism and Sovietism and internationalism, and Socialism and pacifism and radicalism and all the isms which had for several years flown to the four corners of the earth "on the wheels of his flivvers and the wings of his dollars" and blames the whole diabolicalism on the Jews, not as individuals but as a race, to which the North American makes reply:

"With their origin lost in twilight of history they have come down through the ages, witnesses of the rise and fall of Egypt and Babylon and Greece and Rome and Spain and Henry Ford. They gave to the pagan the vices of earth and beckoning men to a higher sphere. The Christian world owes to the Jews Bethlehem and Nazareth, as it owes to a Jew the Sermon on the Mount and the Sacrifice on Calvary.

"The United States has welcomed the Jew to our shores and he has repaid the nation by unremitting industry and perseverence in the factory and in the school, in the counting house, in the halls of legislation, in the chambers of commerce and by unflinching courage on the battlefield. The Jew has proved that he can be a good American. Mr. Ford's mythical protocols can do no harm to any one, except to those who fatuously or maliciously spread so egregious a falsehood."

Weakening Effect of Civilization.

Portage Register-Democrat.

The dead Indian arose after the fight, washed his face, and was apparently little the worse for the battle. His condition, however, became serious during the night and he died from the effects of his pummeling a few days later.

Edgar A. Guest.

TO J. L., WHO PRESENTED THE WRITER WITH A SILVER-MOUNTED CANE.

Here is a prop against grim Time's decay,
A staunch straight friend on which some day to lean;
A brown malacca—as a palm it's seen—
The sun of Asia rise to mark the day;
Then dusky natives cut its fronds away
And toiled until its sides were polished clean.
Oceans and skies great spaces stretched between
Its forest birthplace and our U. S. A.

Men toiled for money when they cut it down,
For money it was carried o'er the sea,
For money it was bartered in the town,
The jeweler who 'graved it earned his fee;
But here at last the tides of commerce end,
'Tis now the priceless symbol of a friend.

Senreco

The double-service tooth paste, keeps teeth clean AND GUMS HEALTHY.

Keeping the gums healthy and the mouth sweet is very important to health; more teeth are lost through the loosening of the tissue that holds the teeth in place than from decay.

Dental science to-day demands that a tooth paste must keep the gums healthy as well as clean the teeth.

Senreco was formulated to meet this requirement. Hundreds of dentists are prescribing and using Senreco because they have found that it does measure up to that standard.

SENRECO IS A WONDERFUL CLEANSER.

In addition to its remedial properties Senreco is a wonderful cleanser; acts directly on the mucin film, the basis of tartar; leaves the mouth cool and clean-feeling. As some one has expressed it—Senreco gives one a new idea on mouth cleanliness.

Get a tube to-day at your druggists or toilet counter—enjoy the healthy, cleanly feeling its use gives your mouth and gums. Notice how brilliantly white Senreco makes your teeth. It performs this two-fold service for you and yet costs no more than the ordinary, old-fashioned tooth paste that simply cleans the tooth and leaves a pleasant taste—

COKERS DROP HARD GAME TO ST. VINCENT'S FIVE; BRADDOCK NEXT FRIDAY

Orange and Black Dribblers Lose by Poor Efforts in First Half; Score 44-27.

GREENS PLAY TONIGHT

St. Vincent's college quintet won over the Connellsville High Saturday night on the gymnasium here, 44-27. The St. Vincent's boys had the Cokers greatly outweighed and during the first period scored baskets from points in the middle of the floor. The long distance goals went in with uncanny regularity during the first half, but the visitors were compelled to increase their stride in the next period.

The score at the end of the first period was a mute symbol of what Connellsville was against in the opening 10 minutes. As the quarter closed the visitors had a total of 15 points compared with three for the locals. The first half ended 26-9. At least half of these points the wearers of the Green scored from distant points.

The third period was a fine exhibition of basketball. The Cokers came back strong and, outplaying the college team, cut down the lead to seven points, scoring 10 while the visitors dropped in a single free one from the foul line. The Beatty boys tightened in the last period and while a red-hot game was played, the Cokers could not overcome the lead.

Lowney, the big center, towered head and shoulders above any man on the Coker team. It was hard to play him without committing a foul, and he scored nine goals.

The score:

St. Vincent-44		Connellsville-27
Riley	F	Soisson
Davin	F	Driscoll
Lowney	C	McCormick
O'Shea	G	Melnick
Kerr	G	Francis

Substitutions—Neid for Soisson, Harmon for Melnick, Edmunds for Harmon, Seaton for Edmunds.

Field goals—Lowney 9, Davin 5, Riley 4, Driscoll 3, Neid 2, Melnick 2, Seaton, McCormick, O'Shea.

Foul goals—Soisson, 2 out of 4; Driscoll, 7 out of 15; O'Shea, 6 out of 15.

Referee—Honsberger.

OVER 2,000 COUPLES IN WESTMORELAND ARE LICENSED TO MARRY

Year 1920 Record One Since License Law Became Effective; 1919 Not Far in Rear.

The matrimonial market in Westmoreland county in 1920 was most active according to records in the office of the clerk of the orphans' court in the court house. During the year, 2,265 couples were granted licenses. In 1919, just 2,006 couples secured their permits while during the great war year of 1918 only 1,545 couples were granted licenses here. Scores of other couples residing in the county obtained their licenses and were married outside of the county and the state.

Near the close of Friday, the last day of the year, the entire number of marriage licenses which have been granted in this county since the law went into effect in 1885 was 49,975.

DREW LESSONS FROM NATURE

College Professor Who Had Some Original Views Kept Students Awake.

At college we had a professor of machine design who was as original in his views as he was able in his subjects, writes John H. Van Deventer in Industrial Management. One of his pet theories was the inter-relation between nature and correct design. "Boys," he would say, "there has been only one designer who never made a mistake, and the more we study His work the better machines we will build.

"When you put legs under a machine think of a horse or a cow, and get them as far apart as you can—don't get too much overhung at either end."

And, speaking of a counterbalance, "Study the kangaroo; there is not a prettier example of equilibrium in all positions. The further over he leans the more his tail comes into action off the ground."

And again, in speaking of general design, "Wherever possible, try to work for elasticity as against rigidity. You find very little of the rigid in nature and little trees often survive a gale by bending, where big ones are blown down."

All of which was undoubtedly very true, and made more of an impression on his hearers than some of the more complicated mathematical demonstrations that followed.

Those Operation Curios.

Mrs. Willis—Our Willie has been swapping things again."

Mr. Willis—Born trader, that kid, isn't he? I suppose he traded some marbles for the next-door kid's knife?

Mrs. Willis—Oh, no. He swapped your appendix for Mrs. Bump's gall stones.—Judge.

A Princess of Mars

"She is dead," he answered. "This much was learned from a green warrior recently captured by our forces in the south. She escaped from the hordes of Thark with a strange creature of another world, only to fall into the hands of the Warhoons. Their thoats were found wandering upon the sea bottom and evidences of a bloody conflict were discovered near-by."

While this information was in no way reassuring, neither was it at all conclusive proof of the death of Dejah Thoris, and so I determined to make every effort possible to reach Helium as quickly as I could and carry to Tardos Mors such news of his granddaughter's possible whereabouts as lay in my power.

Ten days after leaving the three Ptor brothers I arrived at Zodanga. From the moment that I had come in contact with the red inhabitants of Mars I had noticed that Woola drew a great amount of unwelcome attention to me, since the huge brute belonged to a species which is never domesticated by the red men. Were one to stroll down Broadway with a Numidian lion at his heels the effect would be somewhat similar to that which I should have produced had I entered Zodanga with Woola.

As I would willingly have offered my life in the service of her in search of whom I was about to challenge the unknown dangers of this, to me, mysterious city, I could not permit even Woola's life to threaten the success of my venture, much less his momentary happiness, for I doubted not he soon would forget me. And so I bade the poor beast an affectionate farewell, promising him, however, that if I came through my adventure in safety that in some way I should find the means to search him out.

He seemed to understand me fully, and when I pointed back in the direction of Thark he turned sorrowfully away, nor could I bear to watch him go; but resolutely set my face toward Zodanga and with a touch of heartsickness approached her frowning walls.

The letter I bore gained me immediate entrance to the vast, walled city. The Ptor brothers had given me explicit directions for reaching the point of the city where I could find living accommodations and be near the offices of the government agents to whom they had given me letters. My way led to the central square or plaza, which is a characteristic of all Martian cities.

As I was crossing the great square lost in wonder and admiration of the magnificent architecture and the gorgeous scarlet vegetation which carpeted the broad lawns I discovered a red Martian walking briskly toward me from one of the avenues. He paid not the slightest attention to me, but as he came abreast I recognized him, and turning I placed my hand upon his shoulder, calling out,

"Kaor, Kantos Kan!"

Like lightning he wheeled and before I could so much as lower my hand the point of his longsword was at my breast.

"Who are you?" he growled, and then as a backward leap carried me fifty feet from his sword he dropped the point to the ground and exclaimed, laughing, "I do not need a better reply. There is but one man upon all Barsoom who can bounce about like a rubber ball. By the mother of the further moon, John Carter, how came you here, and have you become a Darseen that you can change your color at will?"

"You gave me a bad half minute, my friend," he continued, after I had briefly outlined my adventures since parting with him in the arena at Warhoon. "Were my name and city known to the Zodangans I would shortly be sitting on the banks of the lost sea of Korus with my revered and departed ancestors. I am here in the interests of the Tardos Mors, Jeddak of Helium, to discover the whereabouts of Dejah Thoris, our princess. Sab Than, prince of Zodanga, has her hidden in the city and has fallen madly in love with her.

"I have been here three days, but I have not yet found where Dejah Thoris is imprisoned. Today I join the Zodangan navy as an air scout and I hope in this way to win the confidence of Sab Than, the prince, who is commander of this division of the navy, and thus learn the whereabouts of Dejah Thoris. I am glad that you are here, John Carter, for I know your loyalty to my princess and two of us working together should be able to accomplish much."

The plaza was now commencing to fill with people going and coming upon the daily activities of their duties. The shops were opening and the cafes filling with early morning patrons. Kantos Kan led me to one of these gorgeous eating places where we were served entirely by mechanical apparatus.

After our meal, Kantos Kan took me with him to the headquarters of the air-scout squadron and introducing me to his superior asked that I be enrolled as a member of the corps. In accordance with custom an examination was necessary, but Kantos told me to have no fear on this score, as he would attend to that part of the matter. He accomplished this by taking my order for examination to the examining officer and representing himself as John Carter.

"This ruse will be discovered later," he cheerfully explained, "when they check up my weights, measurements, and other personal identification data, but it will be several months before this is done and our mission should be accomplished or have failed long before that time."

The next few days were spent by Kantos Kan in teaching me the intricacies of flying and of repairing the dainty little contrivances which the Martians use for this purpose. The fourth day after my arrival at Zodanga I made my first flight, and as a result of it I won a promotion which included quarters in the palace of Than Kosis.

As I rose above the city I circled several times, as I had seen Kantos Kan do, and then throwing my engine into top speed I raced at terrific velocity toward the south, following one of the great waterways which enter Zodanga from that direction.

I had traversed perhaps two hundred miles in a little less than an hour when I descried far below me a party of three green warriors racing madly toward a small figure on foot which seemed to be trying to reach the confines of one of the walled fields.

Dropping my machine rapidly toward them, and circling to the rear of the warriors, I soon saw that the object of their pursuit was a red Martian wearing the metal of the scout squadron to which I was attached. A short distance away lay his tiny flier, surrounded by the tools with which he had evidently been occupied in repairing some damage when surprised by the green warriors.

They were now almost upon him; their flying mounts charging down on the relatively puny figure at terrific speed, while the warriors leaned low to the right, with their great metal-shod spears. Each seemed striving to be the first to impale the poor Zodangan and in another moment his fate would have been sealed had it not been for my timely arrival.

Driving my fleet air craft at high speed directly behind the warriors I soon overtook them and without diminishing my speed I rammed the prow of my little flier between the shoulders of the nearest. The impact, sufficient to have torn through inches of solid steel, hurled the fellow's headless body into the air over the head of his thoat, where it fell sprawling upon the moss. The mounts of the other two warriors turned squealing in terror, and bolted in opposite directions.

Reducing my speed I circled and came to the ground at the feet of the astonished Zodangan. He was warm in his thanks for my timely aid and promised that my day's work would bring the reward it merited, for it was none other than a cousin of the jeddak of Zodanga whose life I had saved.

LESS MEAT IF BACK AND KIDNEYS HURT

Take a Glass of Salts to Flush Kidneys If Bladder Bothers You.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease. —Adv.

A CLEAR SKIN

Women do not have to patronize the beauty parlor—for if their skin is disfigured with pimples and blotches, and their blood is in disorder they should obtain, at the drug store that wonderful blood tonic and alterative of Dr. Pierce's which he placed before the public over 50 years ago. Since that time many thousands of Pennsylvania men and women have testified to its wonderful blood-cleansing effect. This is what one woman says:

Philadelphia, Pa.:—"I have been troubled in the past for about four months or more with a rash. My face would all break out at times. I was visiting a friend and she told me to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It helped me wonderfully. I also took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Now I have a clear skin—thanks and many thanks to Dr. Pierce. I shall never be without these two medicines in my home."—MRS. B. O'CONNELL, 2302 Fitzwater St.

Quaker Minister Is Grateful to Tanlac

Rev. Parker Moon Carthage, Missouri

Nearly everybody in Southwest Missouri either knows or has heard of the Rev Parker Moon who for a full half century has devoted his life and talents to Sunday school and organization work for the Society of Friends or Quakers He resides at 628 Howard avenue, Carthage Mo

"Uncle Parker as he is more familiarly known came from fine old rugged Quaker stock and there is not a better known or more highly respected citizen in that part of the state In referring to his remarkable restoration to health by Tanlac he said

About five years ago I suffered a general breakdown My principal trouble was nervous indigestion My appetite was very poor and my food seldom agreed with me and I had to live on a very restricted diet I suffered a great deal from headache and dizzy spells I had severe pains across the small of my back and was badly constipated most of the time In fact I was so weak and run down I was not able to attend to my duties

This condition made me very nervous and I could not sleep at night Frequently I would lie awake most all night and was in that condition more or less for five years My physician said he could not do anything for me and suggested a change of climate I then moved to Texas and went back and forth three times but did not get the relief I had hoped for Finally I got so bad off I was not able to get around with any degree of comfort I was also told I had heart trouble

I had read about Tanlac and it had been very highly recommended to me I decided to try it I got a bottle and had taken only a few doses until I could notice a marked improvement in my condition I noticed especially that I was not troubled any more with sour stomach after eating which was a great relief

I kept on taking Tanlac until I fully regained my health My appetite is splendid I enjoy every meal and do not find it necessary now to take any laxative medicines of any kind I can sleep much better and am not nearly so nervous

I take great pleasure in recommending Tanlac to anyone who needs a good system builder or who is in want of a tonic I have recommended Tanlac to a great many of my friends and am pleased to give this statement for publication
